.The sole topic of political conversation during the last fortnight has been the opening of the new quets. This concession to the requirements of the Treaty Powers, was first promised in 1858, and five yours was the term demanded v the Japanese Government as necessary to repare the way to its fulfilment. This having a cen found insufficient, a farther period of five veers was and that for and obtained; the first of January 1868, being the date uitimately fixed upon, a day to which all interested in Japanese allairs have been auxiously looking forward. We have now arrived at the fourth day of the new year, and can with safety assume that all has gone well at Hiego and Osaka, yet there are many who insist on believing that there will be some hitch at the very last, and that things may yet go wrong. The recent postponement of the opening of Yoldo and Neegato from the first instant, to the first of April next, did not tend to quiet these alarmists, who forgot that in that instance full and timely warning was given of the alteration, and that on the other hand, both the foreign and native authorities are agreed as to the occupation of the former localities, without further postponement. The Ministers of the Foreign Powers, in view of the angertled state of affairs in Japan, have assemblod the most perverful fleet ever seen in Japanese waters; the best instrument either to give schit to the ceremony, or to restricin any opposition of its peaceful conclusion, the possibility of which randers us all anxious to receive tidings from Hingo, but these cannot be long delayed, that port being only thirty-six bours distant. Twice that time having elapsed withcepted as a good omen, for as the old saw save "ill news travels fast." In unother place we publish an interesting letter from our special correspondent, by which it will be seen that the preparations for the new consers are hardly in the state of ferwardness they should be considering the time consumed in thein. The rush to the New Ports is such as has never been equalled in the Far East. Already Yokohama is decimated, and Nagasaki almost denuded, of their foreign population—there are rumours of whole shiploads of passengers direct from Shanghai, Hongkone e and other Eastern ports, whilst the P.M.S.S. Co's Liner Great Republic, which which arrived last night from San Francisco, appears to be chieffy taken up with adventurers seeking to share the fabled weath of Japan. The rush is more like that made to a new Australesian goldfield, than like the doings of the gort of people who have hitherto shook the pagoda tree, in the East. Not only merchants and their employes, for whom alone, in theory, the ports were opened but a following as large in proportion, as that of an Indian army—a motley gathering of Doctors and Dentists, Butchers and Bakers, Auctioneers and Agents, Tinkers, and Tailors, Printers and Publicans-all have hastened to this fancied El Dorado, only (for the present at any rate) to prey on one another, like the animalcules in a drop of water. We say for the present advisedly, believing a that; sithough at first we may not find the natives of Hiogo, Osaka, and the serrounding provinces prepared to trade to the extent so sanguinaly anticipated, yet our faith in the future of Japan, always muchaken, assures un apring up between the new comers and the teeming populations of the commercial metro-polis of Osaka, the political capital of Kioto, and their neighbouring districts.
